[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN]

Responsibility for the Stony Creek Disaster Placed by a Coroner's Jury on the Station Master.

NEW HAVEN July 6.—The accident at Stony Creek this morning on the Shore Line railroad occurred [illegible]. The train after taking on two passengers at the Station started for this city. Station Master Wm. Beach replaced the rails just before the rear truck of the last car had passed the switch. Consequently the train bumped along with the truck off the track for a few rods until the trestle-work bridge of Salt Marsh was reached when the rear car rolled off the bridge, some fifteen feet to the meadow below dragging with it all the rest of the train except the locomotive and tender. The cars were badly demolished. Superintendent Wilcox who was in the baggage car as soon as he felt the jolting of the rear car on the [illegible] jumped for the bell rope, rang the bell and then jumped out of a side door into the marsh. The car immediately followed him fell on him and broke his neck. One hundred and seven persons received injuries but most of them were not of a serious character. There are two or three who are critical. Among them are George Davis of Guilford, and Rev E E Hall of Fairhaven. Several have a broken arm or broken leg. A coroner's jury this evening rendered a verdict that Superintendent Wilcox came to his death by reason of the careless act of the station master Beach but the latter claims that he did not reverse the switch until [illegible] until he had noticed that the rear truck was off the rails. This explanation is not credited. The train was a purely local one and the casualties are confined, with a few exceptions, to inhabitants of this city.

Massacre by Sioux in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn July 6.—A special dispatch to the [illegible] from Pembina says a party of Sioux Indians attacked the settlement of St Joseph yesterday and killed four persons. Several children are missing. A company of soldiers has started for the scene of the massacre and a volunteer company is organizing.

The States Court Affirms the Constitutionality of the Wisconsin Railway Law.

NEW YORK July 6.—There was a tumble in the St Paul and Northwestern Railroad stocks to day in consequence of the decision of the U. S. Circuit Court that the Wisconsin railway law regulating fare and freight charges is constitutional.

Coming to Time.

CHICAGO, July 6.—President Keep of the Northwestern Railroad has written a letter to the Governor of Iowa similar in tone to that recently written by Superintendent Kiddell of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, accepting the Iowa rail road laws, and promising compliance to their requirements under protest.

"The Fifth Leading Continental Trunk Line."

NEW ORLEANS June 6.—The organization and consolidation of the Mississippi Central and the New Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago railroad companies was effected to-day by the election of Col. H. [illegible] McComb as President. Its friends claim that this is the fifth leading continental trunk line.

Judge Advocate-General Holt's Review of the Proceedings in the Howard Court-Martial.

WASHINGTON July 6.—It now appears that the report of the Military court which tried Gen Howard and exonerated him entirely was carried by the votes of Generals Sherman, Meigs, Reynolds and Miles. The minority consisting of Pope, McDowell, and Getty dissenting, and President Grant sent their opinion to Judge-Advocate Holt for review. Holt's review is very elaborate. He criticises the action of the majority in many instances ex[illegible] testimony, and dissents from the views of the [illegible] on many important points. Holt admits that [illegible] is not guilty of contempt for law or of corrupt motives, but holds that he is responsible for unlawful acts in connection with the Freedmen's Bureau, committed through inexcusable ignorance.

The French Ministry in a Tight Place.

PARIS, July 6.—Excitement runs high at Versailles. Legitimist Deputies to the number of 100 have decided to vote against the Ministry to-morrow. They have drawn up an order censuring the Government for its misuse of powers conferred by the state of seige but avoiding any mention of the manifesto of Count De Chambord for the suppression of [illegible], so as to secure the support of the Left. The position of the Ministry is critical. It is thought that some change will be unavoidable even if a coalition in favor of Perrier's bill should succeed. The sitting of the Assembly to-morrow may possibly result in a dissolution unless the fear of such a step should restrain the opponents of the Government.

THE FOURTH AT M'MINNVILLE

McMINNVILLE July 5 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

On the morning of the Fourth of July your correspondent found himself in the usually quiet town of McMinnville. Everybody was out and moving early, so early that a bummer was [illegible] in time to see the sun come from behind old Mount Hood. Though fifty miles away, McMinnville is in the shade of Mount Hood at this time in the year, for a part of each day.

The Grangers' picnic on the Methodist camp ground, two miles north of town appeared to be the principal place of attraction, although some, more for a ride on the cars than anything else, went to Hillsboro. From eight o'clock till ten, the road was full of wagons, carriages, horses and every other means of transportation. In one train just as close as they could drive, were counted one hundred and fifty wagons, with an average of six persons to the wagon. Being a kind of nuisance I went with the current. On approaching the ground, full twenty acres of an oak grove just as near as they could be tied, came in view. Passing through this pack of wagons, buggies and every other kind of vehicle and horses we came to a beautiful fir grove swarming with human beings. Sweet music filled the air. Mrs J N Hibbs was organist of the day. Her familiar soprano accompanied by the happy voices of a dozen other farmers and farmers' wives and daughters and the tones of a splendid instrument, made the grove echo.

Mr. A. J. Dufur, of Portland, was orator of the day. Though not an eloquent speaker his effort was considered a perfect success. He set forth in strong terms the object of the Grangers, and the advantages to arise from them not only to the farmer but to the whole country. Mr. R. H. Lampson of Lafayette Grange read the Declaration of Independence and Mr Wm Savage read the declaration of the Patrons of Husbandry. The whole affair passed off quietly and everybody was well pleased and had plenty to eat. It was by far the largest crowd that ever assembled in Yamhill county, and the best dinner ever prepared in Oregon. Some of the samples of the productions of the farm were extra. Wheat and oats both were over seven feet high. McMinnville, [illegible], Amity and Unity Granges had [illegible] banners and mottos. McMinnville Grange is the most prosperous Grange in the county, but they did not come up to the others with their banners.

THE BEECHER TILTON SCANDAL

Theodore Tilton's Reply to Dr. Bacon.

AN OFFENSE BY [illegible] AGAINST TILTON WHICH THE LATTER REFUSES TO NAME OR CHARACTERIZE—TILTON'S [illegible] TO SUFFERERS—THE WOODHULL PUBLICATION—BEECHER'S LETTER IN FACT.

The Rev Leonard Bacon, D.D., LL.D., Moderator of the Brooklyn Council: SIR—I have carefully read your New Haven address concerning the late Council and also your five essays on the same subject just concluded in the Independent.

The numerous and extraordinary misrepresentations of my position which these writings of yours will perpetuate to my injury if not corrected compel me to lay before you the data for their correction—misrepresentations which on your part are of course wholly unintentional for you are incapable of doing any man a willful wrong.

In producing to your inspection some hitherto unpublished papers and documents in this case I need first to state a few facts in chronological sequence sufficient to explain the documentary evidence which follows.

After I had been for fifteen years a member of Plymouth Church and had become meanwhile an intimate friend of the Pastor knowledge came to me in 1870 that he had committed against me

AN OFFENSE WHICH I FORBEAR TO NAME OR CHARACTERIZE.

Prompted by my self respect I immediately and forever ceased my attendance on his ministry. I informed him of this determination as early as January 1871 in the presence of a mutual friend Mr Francis D Moulton.

The rules of Plymouth Church afforded me a choice between two methods of retirement. One, to ask for a formal letter of dismissal, the other to dismiss myself less formally by prolonged absence. I chose the latter. In so doing my chief desire was to avoid giving rise to curious inquiries into the reasons for my abandoning a Church in which I had been brought up from boyhood, and therefore I did not invite attention to the subject by asking for a dismissory letter, but adopted the alternative of silently staying away—relying on the rule that a prolonged absence would finally secure to me a dismissal involving no publicity to the case.

Several powerful reasons prompted me to the adoption of this alternative, among which were the following. The Pastor communicated to me in writing an apology signed by his name. He also appealed to me to protect him from bringing reproach to the cause of religion. He alleged that an exposure

WOULD FORBID HIM TO REASCEND HIS PULPIT.

These and other similar reasons, I had no right or disposition to disregard; and I acted upon them with a conscious desire to see Mr Beecher protected rather than harmed.

II. At length my absence from the Church—an absence of which not three members of the congregation beside the Pastor knew the cause—began to excite comment in private circles.

Some of the members hinted that I had lapsed into a lamentable change of religious views, whereas my views continued to be the same as they had been for many years previous, and though they had long before ceased to find their honest expression in the formal creed which I had professed in my childhood at the altar of Plymouth Church yet my religious faith had not changed from that early original more than the views of some of the most honored members and officers of the same Church had changed within the same time.

Other persons insinuated that I had adopted unchristian tenets concerning marriage and divorce, whereas touching marriage I have always held and still hold with ever increasing firmness, the one and only view common to all Christendom, and touching divorce, the substance of what I held was, and still is the needful abrogation of our unjust New York code, and the substitution of the more humane legislation of New England and the West.

Other persons fancied that I had become a Spiritualist of an extravagant type, whereas I have never yet seen my way clear to be a Spiritualist at all,—certainly not to be so much a Spiritualist as some of the most prominent members of Plymouth Church are known to be.

All these suppositions—and many others,—but never the right one,—became current in the Church (and still are) to explain my suddenly ended membership—the true reason for which has been understood always by the Pastor, but never by his flock.

III. At length after many calumnious whisperings near and far (since evil tales magnify as they travel) a weekly paper in New York, in November 1872 published a wicked and horrible scandal—a publication which some persons in the Church ignorantly attributed in its origin and animus to me, whereas I had previously spent many months of an endeavor in which, with an earnest motive but a foolish judgment I made many ill directed sacrifices of my reputation, position, money and fair prospects in life; for all which losses of things precious, since mine alone was the folly, let mine alone be the blame.

IV. In May, 1873 occurred the surreptitious publication of a tripartite agreement signed by H C Bowen, H W Beecher, and myself,—an agreement which, so far as I was concerned, had for its object to pledge me to silence against using or circulating charges which Mr Bowen had made against Mr Beecher. This covenant as originally written would have bound me never to speak not only of Mr Bowen's but also of my own personal grievances against Mr Beecher. I refused to sign the original paper. My position in the amended paper was this: Mr Bowen had made grave charges against Mr Beecher. These charges Mr Bowen had been induced to recall in writing. I cheerfully agreed never to circulate the charges which Mr Bowen had recalled.

V. In August 1873 Mr William F West a member of Plymouth Church hitherto a stranger to me came to my residence accompanied (at his request) by my friend Mr F B Carpenter and told me that when the summer vacation was over he (Mr W.) meant to cite me before the Church on the charge of circulating scandals against the Pastor—declaring in Mr C's presence that Mr Beecher had acted as if the reported scandalous tales were true rather than false and urging that I owed it to myself and the truth to go forward and become a willing witness in an investigation. I peremptorily declined to join Mr West in his proposed investigation and declared that as I had not been a member of Plymouth Church for several years I could not be induced to return to that Church for any purpose whatever, least of all for so distasteful a purpose as to participate in a scandal. Mr. West had meanwhile discovered that my name still remained on the Church roll, from which circumstance he determined to assume that I was still a member and to FORCE ME TO TRIAL.

Accordingly a few weeks later he brought forward charges which were nominally against myself but really against the Pastor—charges which as I may characterize them by the recently published language of the present Clerk of Plymouth Church, were an indirect and insincere method of investigating one man under the false pretense of investigating another.

Some leading members including especially the Pastor desired my co-operation in defeating Mr West, and I cheerfully gave it. To this end I wrote—with their foreknowledge and at their urgent desire—a letter declining to accept a copy of the charges addressed to me as a member on the ground that I had four years previously ceased my connection with the Church. For this letter I received on the next day after sending it the Pastor's prompt and hearty thanks. An understanding was then had between Mr Beecher and myself, in an interview at the residence of Mr Moulton, that Mr West's indictment against me was to be disposed of in the following way namely by a simple resolution to the effect that whereas I had four years previously terminated my membership, and whereas by inadvertence my name still remained on the roll, therefore resolved that the roll be amended in accordance with the fact. This was to put Mr West [illegible] quietly out of court without bringing up the scandal.

TO MY SURPRISE AND INDIGNATION

I learned on the morning of Oct[illegible] that the report which was to be presented at the Church meeting, to be held on that evening would not be in the simple form already indicated but would declare that whereas I had been charged with slandering the Pastor and whereas I had been notified before the Church to meet the charge and whereas I had pleaded non membership as an excuse for not appearing for trial therefore resolved that I should be dropped etc.

This gross imputation thus foreshadowed to me led me to appear in person at the Church on that evening there to await the reading of the forthcoming report. This report when it came to be read brought me the following novel intelligence namely: "Whereas a copy of the charges was put into the hands of the said Tilton on the 17th of October and he was notified [illegible] that he should answer the same by the 23d of October" etc.

I do not know to this day whose hand it was that drew the above report and therefore I am happily saved an offensive personality when I say that the statement which I have here quoted is diametrically the opposite of the truth, for instead of my having been requested to answer the charges I had been requested not to answer them.

After the public reading of the above report I arose in the meeting and said, in Mr Beecher's presence, that if I had slandered him I would answer for it to his face, to which he replied in an equally public manner that he had

NO CHARGE WHATEVER TO MAKE AGAINST ME.

IV. Next growing out of the Church's singular proceedings in the case, came the Congregational Council of which you were Moderator.

The above facts and events—which I have mentioned as briefly as possible, omitting their details—will serve as a sufficient ground work whereon to base the correction of the unjust and injurious statements which you have unwittingly given of my participation and responsibility in the case. With the Congregational theories and usages which you have so ably discussed, I have no concern; you are probably right about them. But as to all the essential facts growing out of my relationship to Plymouth Church you have been wholly misinformed, as you will see by the following proofs.

I. You say that I retired from the Church giving no announcement of my so doing to any proper officer—in other words, that I stole out secretly, letting no one in authority know of my purpose. Your language concerning me is as follows:

His position was that he had terminated his membership four years previously—not by requesting the Church, as by its rules it might have done, to drop his name from its roll, etc.

You then ask:

Is this the beautiful non-stringency of the covenant which connects the members of that Church with the body and with each other? What sort of covenant is that which can be dissolved at any moment not by mutual consent nor by either party giving notice to the other, but by a silent volition in the mind of either.

The above is

of the manner in which I left Plymouth Church.

On the very first occasion of my meeting the chief officer of the Church after my retirement I gave notice to him of that retirement. At a late period I repeated this notice to other officers of that body. In evidence of this fact, I adduce the following extract from a recent card by Mr Thomas G Shearman, Clerk of Plymouth Church, published in the Independent of June 18 1874. He says:

Long before any charges were preferred against him, Mr Tilton distinctly informed the Clerk of the Church and various other officers and members (myself included) that he had withdrawn, and that his name ought to be taken off the roll.

II. You say that I have either a malicious heart or a crazy brain. I know the fountain head of this opinion. While the Council was in session in Brooklyn the following startling paragraph appeared in the Brooklyn Union of Saturday March 28 1874:

MR SHEARMAN ON THE SITUATION.

At the close of the services a Union reporter approached Mr Beecher for the purpose of getting his views as to the Council but he declined to be interviewed. Mr Shearman the Clerk of the Church however was communicative. He said he had received no intimation as yet what course the Council would pursue. In regard to the scandal on Mr Beecher he said so far as Tilton was concerned, he (Tilton) was out of his mind, off his balance and did not act reasonably. As for Mrs Tilton she [illegible] occasioned the whole trouble which [illegible] a half crazy [illegible]. She had mediumistic fits and while under the strange power that possessed her often spoke of the most incredible things, declared things possible that were impossible, and among the rest had slandered Mr. Beecher. Mr Tilton himself had acknowledged that all the other things she had told him in her mediumistic trance were false and impossible. Then why asked Mr Shearman should the scandal on Mr Beecher be the only truth in her crazy words.

My attention was not called to the above paragraph until after the Council had adjourned and its members had gone to their homes. At first I was not willing to believe that the Clerk of Plymouth Church—the same officer whose name had been officially signed to all the documents which the Church had just been sending to the Council—could have been guilty of so

GREAT AN OUTRAGE AGAINST TRUTH AND DECENCY

As the above paragraph contained—particularly against a lady whose devout religious faith and life are at the farthest possible remove from Spiritualism or fanaticism of any kind. Accordingly I procured the following sworn statement by the reporter certifying to the accuracy of his report.

KINGS COUNTY ss.

Edwin F Denyse reporter of the Brooklyn Union being duly sworn deposes as follows:

At the close of the Friday evening meeting in Plymouth Church March [illegible] 1874 I in company with another member of the press requested Mr Thomas G. Shearman Clerk of the Church to communicate to us for publication any facts or comments or opinion which he might wish to make concerning the Congregational Council then in session whereupon Mr Shearman stated in our hearing and for the purpose for which we asked him to do so the allegations contained in the previous paragraph. And I do swear that this paragraph is a correct and moderate report of Mr Shearman's statement both in letter and spirit. And I further testify that I solicited as a reporter the above statement from Mr Shearman because he was the Clerk of the Church whose name had been affixed in that capacity to the documents which Plymouth Church had sent to the Council and because an opinion from such a high officer would have an official authenticity and importance.

EDWIN F. DENYSE.

Sworn to before me this 1st day of April 1874.
FRANK CROOKE, Justice of the Peace.

Shortly after the appearance of Mr. Shearman's reported interview in the Union that gentleman sent to me through Mr. F. D. Moulton a letter the substance of which was that he (Mr S.) had referred in the above conversation not to me or my family but to other persons. This letter I declined to receive and returned it to the writer with a demand upon him to retract his unjust and injurious statements. Furthermore I required, as a condition of my accepting from Mr Shearman any apology at all, that this apology should be presented to me in writing in the presence of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

THIS WAS PROMPTLY DONE.

At Mr Moulton's house in Mr Beecher's presence, Mr Shearman's apologetic letter was as follows:

BROOKLYN, April [illegible] 1874.

DEAR SIR: Having seen a paragraph in the Brooklyn Union of Saturday last containing a report of a statement alleged to have been made by me concerning your family and yourself I desire to assure you that this report is seriously incorrect and that I have never authorized such a statement.

It is unnecessary to repeat here what I have actually said upon these subjects, because I am now satisfied that what I did say was erroneous, and that the rumors to which I gave some credit were without foundation.

I deeply regret having been misled into an act of unintentional injustice and I am glad to take the earliest occasion to rectify it. I beg therefore to withdraw all that I said upon the occasion referred to as incorrect (although then believed by me) and to repudiate entirely the statement imputed to me as untrue and unjust to all parties concerned.

T. G. SHEARMAN

THEODORE TILTON, Esq.

The [illegible] which Mr T G Shearman thus retracted is but one of several [illegible] against [illegible] and myself which have [illegible] by interested parties to explain the [illegible] of Plymouth Church—[illegible] which has since been corrected in the same way and which in others will [illegible] to be corrected [illegible] in the way.

IN [illegible]

III. You ask "When did Mr Tilton cease to be responsible to the Plymouth Church?" I answer that I first ceased my responsibility to that church when I terminated my membership four years ago. I afterwards voluntarily renewed my responsibility to the church on the evening of October 31 1873 by appearing in person at one of its public meetings and offering to answer then and there, in the pastor's presence, the charge that I had slandered him. [illegible] I still further [illegible] my responsibility to Plymouth Church as will appear by the following correspondence:

[illegible] MAY 4 [illegible]

[illegible] Halliday, Assistant Pastor [illegible]

GENTLEMEN: I address through you, to the Church of which you are officers, the following statement which you are at liberty to communicate to the church through the Examining Committee or in any other mode, private or public.

The Rev Leonard Bacon D D LL D Moderator of the recent Congregational Council has seen fit since the adjournment of that body to proclaim, publish and reiterate with strong emphasis and with the weight of his high official authority a grave declaration which I here quote, namely:

It was for the Plymouth Church he says to vindicate its Pastor against a damaging imputation from one of its members. But with great alacrity—the Pastor himself concurring—it threw away the opportunity of vindication. * * * That act [illegible] which the Plymouth Church threw away the opportunity of vindicating its Pastor [illegible] for [illegible] from neighboring Churches. * * There are many he says also not only in Brooklyn but elsewhere who felt that the Church had not fairly met the question and by evading the issue had thrown away the opportunity to vindicate its Pastor.

The Moderator's declaration is thus made three times over that the Plymouth Church in dealing with my case threw away its opportunity of vindicating the Pastor.

This declaration thus emphatically repeated by the chief mouthpiece of the Council and put forth by him apparently as an exposition of the Council's view compels me as the third party to the controversy to choose between two alternatives.

One of these is to remain silently in the dishonorable position of a man who [illegible] to his former Pastor an opportunity for the vindication of that Pastor's character—an opportunity the more heinous because an unsullied character and reputation are requisites to his sacred office.

The other alternative is for me to restore to his Church their lost opportunity for his vindication by presenting myself voluntarily for the same trial to which the Church would have power to summon me if I were a member—a suggestion which judging from my past experience will subject me afresh to the unjust imputation of reviving a scandal for the suppression of which I have made more sacrifices than all other persons.

Between these two alternatives—which are all that the Moderator leaves to me, and which are both equally repugnant to my feelings—duty requires me to choose the second.

I therefore give you notice that if the Pastor or the Examining Committee or the Church as a body desire to repossess the opportunity which the Moderator laments that you have thrown away, I hereby restore to you this lost opportunity as freely as if you had never parted with it.

I authorize you if such be your pleasure to cite me at any time within the next thirty days to appear at the bar of Plymouth Church namely that of circulating and promoting scandals derogatory to the Christian integrity of the Pastor and injurious to the reputation of the Church.

My only stipulation concerning the trial is that it shall not be held with closed doors, nor in the absence of the Pastor.

I regret keenly that the Moderator has imposed upon me the necessity of making this communication for nothing but necessity would extort it.

The practical good which I seek to achieve by this proposition is that whether accepted or declined it will in either case effectually put an end forever to the Moderator's grave charge that Plymouth Church has been deprived through me of an opportunity to vindicate its Pastor, or that its Pastor has been by any act of mine deprived of an opportunity to vindicate himself.

Truly yours,
THEODORE TILTON.

To the above communication I received the following reply from the Clerk of the Church:

BROOKLYN, May 18 1874.

DEAR SIR: Your note of the 4th inst enclosing a letter addressed to Mr Beecher, Mr Halliday and myself was duly received.

This letter has been received by Mr Halliday with [illegible] it has been submitted to the Examining Committee and we all deem its contents to present a question which should be decided by that Committee and which should not be submitted to the Pastor of the Church to whom therefore the letter has not been shown though he has been informed of its substance.

Having consulted the members of the Committee I am instructed by them that they or even [illegible] him before the Church.

Whatever view may be taken of the case by others the Examining Committee and the Church have seen no necessity of vindicating any member of the Church from charges which no one has made and the Church has never in the twenty seven years of its history adopted such a course. No one can therefore [illegible] the loss of an opportunity to the Church [illegible] which it never was [illegible] and probably never will.

We do not understand your letter as implying that you have any charge to make; but the contrary. If the Committee had so understood it they would have readily entertained and fully investigated it.

It is proper to add that your name was dropped from the roll not simply because of the statements made [illegible] charges which had been preferred against you, but because months if not years before any charges were made you distinctly stated to various officers and members of the Church that you had permanently abandoned all connection with it, thus bringing yourself expressly within the terms of our rule upon this subject. Yours truly,

THOMAS G. SHEARMAN.

MR THEODORE TILTON.

As the above communication from Mr Shearman seemed to be both official [illegible] but only a private signature, I addressed to him the following communication:

174 LIVINGSTON STREET, BROOKLYN, May 23, 1874.

Mr Thomas G. Shearman, Clerk of Plymouth Church:

[illegible]: My recent communication addressed to the Pastor, Assistant Pastor and Clerk of Plymouth Church is acknowledged by you in a note which you seem to have signed merely as a private individual and not as an officer of the Church.

I call your attention to the fact that I did not address you in your private capacity but solely as the Clerk of Plymouth Church.

I therefore respectfully request to be informed by you definitely in writing whether or not I am at liberty to regard your letter as an official reply to mine.

Truly yours, THEODORE TILTON.

Mr Shearman's reply was as follows:

DEAR SIR: In reply to your inquiry whether my letter of the 18th inst was an official answer to yours of the 4th inst I reply that I did not feel at liberty without the express authority of the Church itself to [illegible] that letter as Clerk.

In [illegible] the letter stated that your proposition of May 4 was declined it was official [illegible] as Clerk of the Church. I declined then and decline now to lay the proposals before the Church itself, holding myself responsible to the Church for so doing.

The remainder of that letter of 18th inst must be regarded as my individual statement of what I believe to be the unanimous opinion of the officers of the Church. Your obedient servant,

THOMAS G. SHEARMAN.

MR THEODORE TILTON.

It will thus be seen that Mr Shearman in answer to my inquiry characterizes his previous letter to me as partly official and partly unofficial—though how he could originally have expected me to draw the dividing line between its two parts without the subsequent explanation I am at a loss to understand. But the official portion of his letter (now that it has been pointed out to me) is sufficient to answer your query "When did Mr Tilton cease to be responsible to the Plymouth Church?" I respectfully submit that setting aside all previous considerations concerning the Church roll, I may be fairly said to have ceased my responsibility to Plymouth Church when the Clerk of that Church officially informed me that my voluntary offer to return and be tried

WAS OFFICIALLY DECLINED.

IV. In your five essays you were led through ignorance of the facts to make several other erroneous and injurious statements concerning my case but the corrections and explanations which I have already given will of themselves correct the others.

It now remains for me to give you some reasons why I have been prompted after years of reticence to lay before you the grave matters contained in this communication. Nothing could induce me to make my present use of the foregoing facts except the conviction which the events of the last year and particularly the last half year have forced upon my mind that Mr Beecher himself and other agents acting in his interest and by his consent have shown themselves willing to sacrifice my good name for the maintenance of his. [illegible] have [illegible] slow to reach this judgment—more slowly than any personal friends have done—but that I am not mistaken in it you shall see by a few illustrative instances.

I. I have already shown you how the Church at a public meeting, on Friday evening, October 31st 1873 by an official document which was published the next morning in every leading journal in New York, gave the public falsely to understand that I had been cited to answer charges when I had really been requested not to answer them—a piece of ecclesiastical misrepresentation which was the more grievous to me because it was subsequently accepted by the Council as authentic and the misstatement is still widely believed by the public.

II. Mr Beecher's journal the Christian Union

to a wide circle of readers and took no notice of the correction which I addressed at the time in a brief note to the Council. Let me ask you to weigh the peculiar gravity of this omission by that journal. My case, as presented to the Council by the two protesting Churches was based by them not on any private or accurate knowledge of facts but solely on the published misstatements of those facts by Plymouth Church. I was described by the two Churches to the Council as follows:

Specific charges of grossly unChristian conduct are presented against him by a brother in the Church to which charges he declines to answer, etc.

You will remember that I promptly addressed to you a reply to the above, in which I used the following explicit words:

Gentlemen of the Council every man among you knows that I did not decline to answer.

You as Moderator of the Council courteously gave me the ecclesiastical reasons why my letter could not be officially laid before that body, but can you give me any honorable reason why my defense should not have been published in the Christian Union? If every other American journal should be destroyed and only the files of the Christian Union should remain, that journal's report of my case would represent me as a culprit, first who had slandered a clergyman; next who had been summoned before the Church to answer for this calumniation; next, who had evaded this summons by resorting to the safe shelter of non membership; and last who on account of this moral poltroonery had been dropped from the roll. Such is the record which Mr Beecher's journal contains of my case up to date.

III. During the Council and when there seemed a probability that Plymouth Church would receive condemnation and disfellowship by the neighboring Churches, Mr Beecher inspired a message from his Church to the Council, closing with these words:

We hold that it is our right and may be our duty to avoid the evils incident to a public explanation or a public trial and that such an exercise of our discretion furnishes no good ground for the interference of other Churches provided we neither retain evil in our fellowship nor dismiss by letter as in regular standing persons who bring open dishonor upon the Christian name.

THIS ADROIT INSINUATION AGAINST ME

is what you as Moderator of the Council know to have been the turning point in the fortunes of Plymouth Church before that tribunal. The Council's verdict borrows almost these identical words. It says: "The accused person has not been retained in the Church nor commended to any other Church." You, too, quote these words—borrowed thus doubly from the Church's plea and from the Council's verdict—and you then logically say "Therefore the abnormal method in which the charges against him [me] were disposed of was overlooked." In other words the Council, on reading the above exculpatory petition sent up to it by Plymouth Church, found in it the one and only ground for retaining that Church within the Congregational fellowship; and this one and only ground was because Mr. Beecher's final appeal to the Council represented me as a person who had neither been retained in his Church nor been recommended to any other but who was dropped from the roll for bringing dishonor on the Christian name. This document—constituting Plymouth Church's ungenerous defense before the Council—was accepted by you in good faith and has since led you to point against me

THE FOLLOWING CRUEL WORDS:

The Plymouth Church [you say] made it known that they were no longer responsible for the dishonor which he has brought or may bring on the name of Christ. They dropped him from the roll of the Church. In one word they excommunicated him, for such a dropping from the roll was excommunication from the Church.

You could never had uttered the preceding injurious words against me had not Mr Beecher and his Church Agents given you the materials for so doing by ingeniously putting before the Council a document which you as Moderator, interpreted as being only another way of Plymouth Church's saying that I had brought dishonor on the Christian name, and had therefore been excommunicated.

Do not misunderstand me. I will not say that in my unsuccessful management of this unhappy scandal I have brought no "dishonor on the Christian name"—the one which of all others I most seek to honor. With infinite sorrow I look back through the last few years and see instance on which, by the fatality of my false position, I have brought peculiar dishonor on the Christian name—all of which I freely acknowledge and hope yet to repair. But I solemnly aver—and no man shall gainsay me—that the reason why Plymouth Church avoided an investigation into the scandal with which I was charged was not because I had brought dishonor on the Christian name. And yet this other person, a clergyman, permitted his Church to brand me before the Council with an accusation which had I been in his place and he in mine, I would have voluntarily borne for myself instead of casting on another.

III. I will adduce a further instance by a quotation from a letter which I had occasion to address to Mr Beecher dated May 1 1874:

Henry Ward Beecher: SIR—Mr F. B. Carpenter mentions to me your saying to him that under certain conditions involving certain disavowals by me a sum of money would or could be raised to send me with my family to Europe for a term of years.

The occasion compels me to state explicitly that so long as life and self respect continue to exist together in my breast I shall be debarred from receiving, either directly or indirectly

ANY PECUNIARY OR OTHER FAVOR AT YOUR HANDS.

The reason for this feeling on my part you know so well that I will spare you the statement of it.

Yours truly, THEODORE TILTON.

IV. Take another instance. You will perceive that in Mr Shearman's letter given above—the letter officially declining my offer to return to the Church to be tried—he says under date May 18 1874:

Your note of 4th inst enclosing a letter addressed to Mr Beecher, Mr Halliday and myself was duly received. This letter has been [illegible] Mr Halliday [illegible]

And yet a month and a half after Mr Halliday saw this letter and a month after Mr Shearman had officially replied to it, the Brooklyn Union, of June 19th, contained the following singular statement by a reporter who visited Mr Halliday:

In an extract [says the Union] from a letter written to the Chicago Tribune it is stated that Mr Tilton had addressed a note to the Trustees of Plymouth Church. The Tribune's correspondent declares that Mr Tilton not only expresses his willingness but desires to answer any summons as a witness during the next thirty days. A Union reporter (Mr Tilton not being accessible) called on the Rev Mr Halliday to-day and upon presenting the extract to him was assured that the person who corresponded with the Chicago Tribune must have been misinformed. The very fact of his stating that the letter was addressed "to the Trustees of the Church" he said "was an absurdity. The Trustees only attended to temporalities of the Church. If Mr Tilton had written such a letter—

OF WHICH HOWEVER, HE HAD NO KNOWLEDGE,

it would have been either addressed to the Church, to its Pastor or to some member or members. At the last Friday evening meeting no such letter had been presented for his information and he was certain no such letter had been received, although [illegible]

[illegible]

And yet Mr Halliday according to Mr Shearman's testimony above given had read my letter forty days before thus denying that he had ever seen or heard of it.

A similar statement to the above appeared in the Brooklyn Eagle at the same time (June 20) as follows:

The Trustees of Plymouth Church deny that Tilton [illegible] addressed a letter to them offering himself as a witness and expressing a desire to [illegible] some certain charge against Mr Beecher during the next thirty days. They say that the whole story is false from beginning to end.

The above are recent specimens—not solitary or unique—of the manner in which Mr Beecher's agents have not hesitated to use the Brooklyn press for numerous misrepresentations to my prejudice and personal injury in the community in which I reside and to the public at large.

V. Furthermore I regret to point out to the evidence that Plymouth Church, or rather the attorney who now acts as its Clerk is attempting to make up concerning this case, for the purpose of appealing to it in future to my disadvantage. It was to this end that Mr Shearman ingeniously incorporated in his letter to me dated May 18, 1874, the following words:

We do not understand your letter as implying that you have any charges to make; but the contrary. If the Committee had so understood it they would have readily entertained and fully investigated it.

The manifest object of the above record is to enable the Church to say a year or five years hence that if I ever had any charges to make against Mr Beecher the Church had long ago given me an abundant opportunity to make them. Mr. Shearman is still more bold in his communication to the Independent dated June 18 1874. He therein says of the Church:

Its officers have, in the proper way, without parade, given every facility for investigation that could reasonably be desired even by the most captious critics.

The above statement by Mr Shearman is made in a letter which was put forth by him ostensibly in my interest and which I am already accused of having inspired. This leads me to disavow the declaration which I have last quoted, as insincere and at variance with the truth.

VI. Not to multiply instances needlessly, there is one other to which my self respect compels me to allude with painful explicitness. In your New Haven speech, you characterized Mr Beecher as the most magnanimous of men and in the context referred to me as a knave and a dog. You left the public to infer that I had become in some despicable way, the creature of Mr Beecher's magnanimity. Early in April last I called Mr Beecher's attention to the offensiveness and injuriousness of your statement, and informed him that I either by him or me. In order to provide an easy way for him to correct it involving no humiliation to his feelings, I addressed to you the following letter:

BROOKLYN April 3 1874.

The Rev Leonard Bacon D D—My Dear Sir: I have just been reading the Tribune's report of your Yale speech on the Brooklyn Council, in which occurs the following paragraph:

Another part of my theory is, that Mr Beecher's magnanimity is unspeakable. I never knew a man of larger and more generous mind. One who was in relations to him the most intimate possible said to me "If I wanted to secure his highest love I would go into a church meeting and accuse him of crimes." This is his spirit. But I think he may carry it too far. A man whose life is a treasure to the Church Universal, to his country, to his age has no right to subject the faith in it to such a strain. Some one has said that Plymouth Church's dealings with offenders is like Dogberry's. The comparison was apt. "If any one will not stand let him go and gather the guard and thank God that you are rid of such a knave." So of Lance who went into the stocks and the pillory to save his dog from execution for stealing puddings and geese. I think he would have done better to let the dog die. And I think Mr Beecher would have done better to have let vengeance come on the heads of his slanderers.

* * * * * * * * *

Setting aside the satire and mirth if there be any criticism directed toward me in these words of sobriety and earnestness then I beg you to do me the following

ACT OF JUSTICE.

Please forward to Mr Beecher the letter which I am now writing and ask him to inform you on his word of honor whether I have been his slanderer, whether I have spoken against him falsely; whether I have evaded my just responsibility to Plymouth Church; whether I have treated him other than with the highest possible fairness and whether he has not acknowledged to me in large and ample terms, that my course toward him in this sorrowful business has been marked by the magnanimity which you apparently intimate has characterized his toward me.

If you will write to Mr Beecher as I have indicated I will thank you for a line as to the words or substance of his reply. With great respect I am truly yours,

THEODORE TILTON.

In reply to the above letter you sent me the following:

NEW HAVEN April 10 1874.

Theodore Tilton, Esq—DEAR SIR: Not being in Mr Beecher's confidence I have doubted what I ought to do with your letter written a week ago. I was not—and am not—willing to demand of him that he shall admit me to his confidence in a matter on which he chooses to be reticent. But as the latter seems to have been written for him quite as much as for me I have now sent it to him without asking or expecting any reply.

* * * * * * * *

With the best wishes for your welfare, I am yours truly,

LEONARD BACON.

It is now between two or three months since I received from you the foregoing letter and, as I have not heard that Mr Beecher has made a reply, either to you or to me I am at last forced to the disagreeable necessity of borrowing a reply in his own words, as follows:

BROOKLYN, Jan 1 1871.

I ask Theodore Tilton's forgiveness and

HUMBLE MYSELF BEFORE HIM AS I DO BEFORE MY GOD.

He would have been a better man in my circumstances than I have been. I can ask nothing except that he will remember all the other breasts that would ache. I will not plead for myself. I even wish that I were dead.

* * * * * * * *

H. W. BEECHER.

The above brief extract from Mr Beecher's own testimony will be sufficient without adducing the remainder of the document to show that I have just ground to resist the imputation that I am the creature of his magnanimity.

In conclusion the common impression that I have circulated and promoted scandals against Mr Beecher

IS NOT TRUE.

I doubt if any other man in Brooklyn, during the whole extent of the last four years has spoken to so few persons on this subject as I have done. A mere handful of my intimate friends—who had a right to understand the case—are the only persons to whom I have ever communicated the fact. To all other persons I have been dumb—resisting all questions and refusing all explanations.

If the public have heretofore considered my silence as inexplicable let my sufficient motive be now seen in the just forbearance which I felt morally bound to show to a man who had sent me a written and absolute apology.

But my duty to continue this forbearance ceased when the spirit of that apology was violated by my injury

BY ITS AUTHOR OR HIS AGENTS.

These violations have been multitudinous already and they threaten to multiply in the future—forcing me to protect myself against them in advance—particularly against the cunning devices of the Clerk of the Church who acting as an attorney appears to be conducting this business against me as if it were a case at law.

Had the fair spirit which I had a right to expect from Plymouth Church—at least for its Pastor's sake—been shown toward me, I would have continued to rest in silence on Mr Beecher's apology and never during the remainder of my life would I have permitted any public word of mine to allude to the offense or the offender.

But the injurious measures which the author of this apology has since permitted his Church to take against me, without protest on his part—measures leading to the misrepresentation of my case and character by the Church to the Council, and by the Council to the general public—involving gross injuries to me which have been [illegible] aggravated by your writings—all these [illegible] combining to one end I have [illegible] before my countrymen in the character of a base and [illegible] man—a character which I trust is foreign to my nature and life. Under the accumulating weight of this [illegible]—unjustly [illegible]—

NEITHER PATIENCE NOR CHARITY CAN DEMAND THAT I KEEP SILENT.

In your capacity as ex-Moderator of the Council and as its chief expositor, you have made the theme of your animadversions "the celebrated case of Theodore Tilton." You have declared that this case [illegible] with all its consequences belonging to history and is in every way a legitimate subject of public criticism. If therefore your estimate of the historic importance of the case is true (though I hope it is not) I now finally appeal to you as its chief historian not to represent me as playing an unmanly or dishonorable part in a case in which so far as I am concerned, I have failed in no duty save to myself.

Truly yours, THEODORE TILTON.

Comments of Leading New York Papers.

[From the N. Y. Tribune, [illegible]]

There are few people in New York or in the country who will not regret the reopening of this shocking business which from the beginning has been marked on both sides with a singular deficiency of tact and judgment. The early publications in regard to it were barbarous and criminal. The subsequent measures taken to quiet the scandal were awkward and blundering. * * * Mr Tilton's critics have proved their lack of practical sense by driving him before the public with an appeal which cannot fail to do great harm to himself and others. * * * Mr Tilton has much to say of the reticence he has hitherto observed. We shall be greatly surprised if he does not soon regret that he did not observe it longer. It is not for us yet to judge the action of one who claims to have been vitally wronged, but we can hardly conceive any suffering more intolerable than that which the eloquent and indiscreet editor of the Golden Age has prepared for himself by this unhappy manifesto. The wild and fatal mistakes of two or three years ago were beginning to be forgotten. He now comes forth—stung by what seems the insufficient provocation of technical irregularities in the Congregational Conference and unfriendly criticism in certain newspapers—to challenge to a mortal duel the most eminent preacher in the world, a man revered for his genius and his good works as far as Christianity extends. It would be a misfortune to all of us if the just and righteous fame of the great preacher should receive the slightest stain from this assault, and it would be base ingratitude for this people to think any evil of him before he has been heard or without stronger proof than has yet been offered.

[From the New York Times, June [illegible]]

We print in another column, though not without regret, a portion of a statement made by Mr Theodore Tilton in reference to what has been for some time known as the Beecher-Tilton scandal. Mr Beecher's own admissions as quoted by Mr Tilton, are certainly very strong and will, perhaps startle many who hold that the lives of ministers of religion should correspond in some degree with their preaching. The solemn warning "Be sure your sin will find you out" is not limited in its application to the hearers of the Word but applies to the preachers thereof also. Mr Tilton declares that he would not have published a line on this unpleasant subject but for the persistent attacks which have been leveled at him by the friends of Mr Beecher—and there seems no reason to doubt his word.

He tells them that nine tenths of the consumptives and asthmatics who have been cured in Colorado, were cured by "roughing it." He strongly advises the average invalid suffering from incipient consumption, asthma, bronchial and kindred troubles, to come to Colorado in the spring and rough it all summer.

The Walla Walla Spirit of the West of July 3d says: "During the past week the number of accidents in this locality has been astonishing, and of importance sufficient to make quite a chapter. Broken limbs, etc. have lately become so common that nothing short of a tragedy reaching the pitch of first class sublimity will satisfy our people shortly if this thing goes on. Accidents are only valuable to reporters and medical men, the reporters however having the better of it—for they have their own imaginations to fall back upon, while doctors must live by a practice only obtained through reality. Newspaper men undoubtedly can be—of course they never do."

WHAT THE ANTI MONOPOLISTS WANT

An admirable letter of Governor Taylor, of Wisconsin, in response to an invitation to be present at a meeting called to promote a certain enterprise for the improvement of the facilities for transportation in his State, is finding extensive circulation throughout the States of the Upper Mississippi valley, being copied into nearly all the leading journals. It contains nothing which has not been said in substance many times before so far as concerns the great question of cheaper carrying to the seaboard, but it commands the attention of the public on account of its source. Governor Taylor is an Independent, and was elected by the anti monopoly power. He must therefore be regarded as to some extent the spokesman of that party. What he says in reference to the sentiments of the people of Wisconsin, is equally true of those of Oregon, namely, that those who demand the regulation of freights and fares on the railways, who demand such laws as shall free the farmer and manufacturer from the unconscionable exactions of the carrier are not opposed to railways. The newspaper organs of the railway companies are in the habit of asserting the contrary. A citizen can not give expression to the least dissatisfaction with the manner in which the country has been ruled by the railway rings, without subjecting himself to the attacks of a venal press. A newspaper that dares demand for the productive industries of the country legislation against the paralyzing effects of the railway power, or that declares its purpose to stand by the humble hard working citizen in his struggle against the encroachments of combined capital is exposed to a continuous fusillade from all the subsidized Seven-by-nines of the land. Thus the discussion is, not infrequently, diverted from its original purpose, and becomes little more than a wrangle among the papers about collateral matters.

But the intelligence by which public sentiment is guided in its march toward freedom from corporation rule, is manifested in the moderation that characterizes the utterances of the leaders in the movement. The popular mind can not but be disabused of any errors it may have imbibed through the railway papers, when the remarks of such representative men as Governor Taylor are scattered broadcast and read in the homes of every reading farmer and mechanic. The demand is not, that the building of railways shall be stopped, nor that those already built shall be crippled in their operations, it is that the companies shall be content to realize such reasonable profits on their investment as other legitimate business enterprises produce, and that they shall not use their lines of road to oppress the agricultural and mechanical classes, that they do not unjustly and unreasonably discriminate in favor of one town, or one shipper, against another, that they shall confine their operations, as other corporations are compelled to do, to the enterprise for which they are organized, instead of making the construction and operation of railways a mere auxiliary to side speculations, that in the capital invested in the roads and upon which interest must be earned by the tariffs of charges, they shall not include the nominal or par value of millions on millions of stock certificates which do not represent a dollar or a cent of money actually paid, in that, that the business of railroading shall be brought within those wholesome and just rules and maxims which obtain in all other branches of business, and shall be satisfied with the legitimate profits thereof. This is the demand of the people, it is the demand of the industries of the nation, it is the demand of true statesmanship, it is the indispensable condition of prosperity. More railways, and less extortion. More business and less gambling in stocks. More legitimate enterprise and less politics in railway management. More accommodating the people, and less corrupting the fountains of law and justice. More attention to wants of trade, and less trading the people into a state of actual want.

SOUTH CALOLINA

Probably there is not in all the history of the misrule and violence which have taken place in the Southern States, a darker page than that now being written in South Carolina. The telegraph says but little of it, but the Eastern papers teem with accounts of a state of affairs in that commonwealth that is a disgrace to republicanism. In 1872, the carpet government having become so thoroughly odious that no party could hope to defend it before the people, the Republicans themselves in their State Convention passed resolutions condemning it in unmeasured terms, and demanding a thorough reform in the administration of the affairs of the State. Then their orators went forth pouring the anathemas of the Convention on the head of every sympathizer with the carpet baggers' misrule and urging the people to stand up for Republican rule and reform. They were successful, at least to the extent of deluding the voters into the notion that some wonderful and miraculous change had been wrought in the hearts of the Republican politicians and that henceforth these were to be the uncompromising foes to all manner of political and official knavery. So, with the promise of an era of honest administration and consequent low taxation and general prosperity, the Republicans were given a new lease of power. A correspondent of the New York Times, who has been making a visit to that State in order to ascertain the exact truth in the premises, says that the colored people were also led to believe the Democrats contemplated attempting to reduce them back to slavery and that this delusion secured its strength to the Republican candidates.

At all events, the magnificent promises upon which the campaign had been conducted were forgotten as soon as the election was over. 'Before and after election are different things' in South Carolina as well as in Oregon. Governor Moses was no sooner inaugurated than he commenced a series of raids upon the public treasury, beside which those of his predecessors were forced to "pale their ineffectual fires," and in which he was ably seconded by most of his fellow officers of State and by a most subservient and corrupt Legislature. The taxes have increased under his administration nearly a hundred per cent and are higher than ever known before. Property is taxed out of existence and citizens are taxed out of house and home. Embezzlements are frequent and as for bribery, it is one of the established institutions of political society. Only a short time since several officers of high rank were convicted of infamous crimes in connection with their official positions and ere they had got their places in the penitentiary warm with their presence they were pardoned out by Moses. Indeed he himself is an ex convict. In such a man it is to be expected that rogues will receive executive clemency. In his interview with the Times correspondent Moses admitted that he had been prior to his election a man of notoriously bad character, but said he had now resolved to live a virtuous and honorable life. But in the next breath he boasted of having been a party to certain election frauds recently and laughed heartily over the success of his rascality. He also said he fully expected to be renominated by the Republicans this fall, and that if he should be his election was certain. When asked by the correspondent whether the publication of the various and grave charges against him would not somewhat diminish his chances of election with a smile which was manifestly intended as a rebuke to the innocence of his interrogator he replied in substance that it would not affect the question in the least, as most of his constituency were persons who could not read, and those who could were attached to his fortunes by other ties than those of personal character or political principle. The report which the Times correspondent obtained from the State Auditor who is a colored man of excellent abilities and who does not believe in Moses, showed in a still stronger light the villainies of the Moses Government.

Making all due allowance for the exaggerations that will naturally be indulged in by parties so bitterly at war with each other as the native white citizens and the carpet-bag rulers of South Carolina must be, it is apparent that the condition of things existing in that State could hardly be made worse by any possible change. The very air is tainted with corruption and the rapacity of those who have the control of public affairs is beyond credit. South Carolina is another proof added to the list already much too long, that the work of reconstruction has been but partially performed, and it is doubtful whether there must not yet be further action by the General Government to secure large sections of the South against absolute destruction.

NO CLASS LEGISLATION

The Pittsburgh Dispatch after repeating some very good truisms about the evils of class legislation, proceeds to make an application of them to the case of the Grangers. It assumes that the Grangers are demanding legislation for themselves, that is, for agriculture, against all other classes. How any one could arrive at any such conclusion in regard to the Grangers, we confess ourselves wholly unable to perceive. So far as we have observed—and we have watched the proceedings of the order pretty closely—the Patrons of Husbandry have made no demand for any special legislation in their behalf in any State. They have, indeed, refrained from pressing any specific claim on behalf of the agricultural classes. But they have declared that all laboring classes, whether farmers, mechanics, or common laborers, have the same natural rights with the numerically small class who are born with silver spoons in their mouths, and that the practice of legislating for the latter at the expense of the former ought to be and must be stopped. It is not class legislation they seek, but that class legislation may cease. They demand, not that special favors shall be extended to them but that special favors shall be shown to none.

The United States Circuit Court has affirmed the constitutionality of the Wisconsin law regulating freights and fares on railways and thereupon it is announced there has ensued a general tumbling of stocks in roads affected by the law. They ought to tumble if they are higher than the roads can carry upon a fair tariff of rates. There is no fairness in putting rates so high that the income will pay large dividends upon stock that never contributed a cent to build the road. The value of such stock is wholly fictitious. It represents no money and therefore it should draw no money. The bonds are the real debts of the roads and the stock that has paid nothing ought to be held as so much blank paper in estimating the reasonableness of charges. Let it tumble.

Pittsburg has a municipal debt of $12,000,000 so reports the Controller. The taxpayers are making a fuss about it which of course is ridiculous, as all demands for economy are ridiculous. It would be to allow the party press to form our opinions for us. The Republicans have this immense debt to answer for as it has been created under their rule but the Bourbons dare not say anything against it as there are so many similar cases on record against them. The Dispatch said well when it said party politics ought to be left out of all municipal elections. Party elections invariably lead to party jobs and party jobs are sources of lavish expenditures and burdensome taxation.

The Police Commissioners have made a reduction of the force in accordance with the request of the Council. That is right. By paying attention to the petition of the Council in preference to their own petition to themselves the Commissioners have shown the best of judgment. It is greatly to be hoped that hereafter the good order of the city will be as well secured by the nine policemen two captains and one Chief of Police as they were three years ago when the entire force consisted of the Marshal and five deputies and the population of the city was nearly the same as at present.

QUARTZ MINING IN EASTERN OREGON

THE [illegible] OF GRANT COUNTY—[illegible] CONVENIENT FOR WORKING THEM—AN EXPERIMENT NEEDED

CANYON CITY, July 1 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

It may be of some interest to the many readers of your paper to know something about the agricultural and mineral resources of this section of the country.

The millions of dollars that have been taken from the placer mines of Grant county are conclusive of the richness of that class of diggings, and as these placer claims have been worked for long years past they must of necessity become exhausted and mines of a more lasting character were sought for. It is a fact long and well known that in various localities in the county quartz existed in abundance but in consequence of the easy access to the placer mines, the little outlay in opening and working them as well as the heavy expenditure in obtaining machinery for prospecting and working quartz, but little attention was given to that branch of mining until within the last year, and those who had located lands and prospected them did it so unsatisfactorily to themselves and others that it created but little interest in quartz mining.

In 186 or 1867 a small mill of eight stamps was attached to the steam sawmill of Southworth and Porter on the middle fork of the John Day river in the Elk creek district but this was situated at such a great distance from the ledges and was so imperfectly worked and managed that nothing satisfactory resulted from the enterprise. Elk creek or Susanville is about thirty miles from Canyon City, and it has been universally conceded by all who have prospected the quartz in that locality (at least those who profess to know anything about the quality of gold bearing quartz) that it is rich in gold. But still nothing beyond the mill already spoken of and the erection of an arrastra was done to develop them.

Nearly three years ago Fred Cobbold, a man whose education as a scholar and particularly as an essayist and chemist had received the finest touch of American as well as continental schools, came to Canyon City, and having friends here that were aware that he had spent not only time and means in study but that he had practically devoted much time to the science of mineralogy, his attention was called to the Elk creek quartz field. Fred is as industrious as he is accomplished. He is always as ready to pull off his coat and roll up his sleeves and go in and help dig out and prepare the rock for the furnace or mill as any man in the community. By a careful assay the quartz was found to be rich, but to realize anything in quartz mining there must be mills erected and all the necessary appliances brought to work. Becoming well satisfied with the quality of rock Cobbold, Roy and Dr Horsly bought from Metquade the lode known as the "Gem of the Mountain," and in the fall of 1873 erected a mill near the ledge. It was late in the fall when the mill was completed, and as they were not prepared to operate through the winter they of course, could run their mill but a short time. For the purpose of prospecting the various ledges they crushed thirty tons from each of the following ledges: "Gem of the Mountains," "Jack Powers" and the "National." None of these lodes named yielded less than twenty five dollars to the ton, and this with everything being new about the mill as well as the advanced season and things working imperfectly. They must necessarily have lost some gold, but this with the unequaled advantages of wood and water and the convenience of obtaining rock is a very respectable yield.

During the spring and before starting the mill Cobbold had discovered what he supposed to be a spur of the "National" ledge and by running a ground sluice a short distance he could uncover a large quantity of rock and afford good opportunity to prospect it. In running the ground sluice when he had reached a point about nine feet deep he discovered a new lode that lay just beneath the surface of the ground.

We sluiced away a space of sixteen feet along the line of the ledge nine feet deep and clear across the ledge, which strange as it may appear was twelve feet. I will not pretend to say how rich it is but it is certainly fabulously rich as gold can be seen with the naked eye in the rock taken from any part of the ledge exposed. It is called the "Cobbold ledge." Fred says he is rich and there can be no doubt of it.

I have not written this to excite anybody nor for buncombe. It is truth and as the experiment can be made at so small an expense let all those who wish to engage in this branch of business come and see for themselves. P.

WEDNESDAY MORNING JULY 8 1874

CITY.

ARRESTED FOR PERJURY —On complaint of Mr W D Nichols of Polk county one Chas Sutherland was arrested in this city yesterday morning on a charge of perjury It seems that Miss Nichols daughter of the complaining witness loved well, but not wisely a young man named Hugh Starr, who resides at Independence The father strongly disapproved of the attachment formed by his daughter and bitterly opposed the young lady's choice. But the lovers determined on matrimony eloped, and coming down to Lafayette in Yamhill county, procured the marriage license Coming on down to Portland these loving hearts were bound in wedlock by Justice O S Phelps last Saturday afternoon Mr Nichols, the father of the young lady appeared on the scene on Sunday morning, and surprised, in no very agreeable manner the lovely couple Finding he had arrived too late the father did not act rashly but bade the two depart in peace Sutherland it appears was a personal friend of Starr and he made an affidavit to the fact that the young lady was of age before the County Clerk of Yamhill. Mr Nichols declares that the girl is only 17 years old and that Sutherland committed perjury when he stated under oath that he was 18 years of age Yesterday the case was called in the Police Court and after a partial examination was continued until Saturday or until the defendant can obtain several important witnesses Sutherland states that young Starr and his bride and also the Clerk that issued the license are very important witnesses and their testimony would be very material in establishing his innocence, and he asked the Court for a continuance of the case until these parties could be brought to the city as they are now in Polk and Yamhill counties As soon as these witnesses can be found and their attendance on Court obtained, the examination will proceed

CITY OFFICERS —Ten days are allowed by the Charter for the city officers to qualify after being elected At the last meeting of the Common Council—special—held on Friday evening, the following officers were chosen City Attorney, Surveyor Auditor and Clerk, and Superintendent of Streets According to the Charter these officers have until July 13th in which to file bonds and take the oath of office. Gov Gibbs the City Attorney elect has already taken the required oath and is ready to assume the duties of the position Mr Davis who was chosen Superintendent of Streets, has taken the oath and entered upon the duties of the office It will be remembered that Mr Habersham tendered his resignation several weeks ago which was accepted by the Council. This created a vacancy in the office and Mr Davis being elected to fill the unexpired term, as well as for the next year as assumed the position without delay Bonds will be required of the Auditor and Surveyor Mr Caldwell, will be required to enter into a bond of $25,000, and Mr Taylor $2 000 These gentlemen have until next Monday in which to qualify and there can be no question but what all the requirements of the law will be faithfully complied with

CUTTING AFFAIR.—A cutting affray occurred in East Portland on Monday evening between a man named M Connelly and Dick Maguire The altercation arose from some previous difficulty between the parties, and resulted in Connelly getting a severe cut in the face and also on one hand Maguire and Connelly met in DeBorst's saloon and after conversing for a few minutes together, stepped out on the side walk Some high words were exchanged when Maguire drew a knife and struck Connelly in the face, inflicting a severe gash Connelly dealt his antagonist a powerful blow with his fist which prostrated him Just as he was proceeding to give his fallen foe a good drubbing for his perfidious actions Maguire struck again with the knife, cutting Connelly severely in the hand Bystanders interfered at this stage of the row and separated the combatants Both parties left very soon after the row before the City Marshal arrived at the scene, and consequently no arrest was made Although of a painful character, the wounds received by Connelly are not regarded as serious

POLICE FORCE REDUCED —Six policemen tendered their resignation on Monday to the Board of Police Commissioners and have thrown up their stars. This was in compliance with a resolution recently passed by the Common Council, asking the Commissioners to reduce the number of regular policemen paid by the city to nine one chief and two captains, and refusing to make any appropriations for the payment of a larger force after the 1st of July Those who retired from the force are L M Bourdon J D Yates, D Norton, D Shea J O'Neil and P Martin Including the late lamented Chas T Schoppe who was killed last month the police force has been reduced seven The regular force now consists of Chief Lappeus Captains A B Brannan and J R Wiley Policemen H M Hudson A J Barlow Chas Gritzmacher J K Mercer Thos Burk, W M Kelly T Corcoran B P Collins and G D Luck The special police or night watchmen are J F McCoy B O Hara M Keenan and Jas Sloan

GONE INTO EFFECT —Readers have not forgotten the fact that an ordinance was passed a few weeks since prohibiting the issuance of license to any female to sell or deal in spirituous liquors This ordinance was practically to take effect on and after July 1st, and is to all intents and purposes in force at present No places of business presided over by disreputable females have as yet been closed but we shall expect soon to see a number of dives rendered tenantless by the operation of this most wholesome and salutary law Ten days of grace is generally given to liquor venders in which to take out licenses When this period expires, which will be on Friday no more licenses will be granted these women and no alternative will be left them but to retire from business Those of the above class who attempt to sell ardent beverages after the present week will find themselves in limbo

DROP CURTAIN —A very handsome drop curtain for Oro Fino Theater is being painted, and will soon be finished Mr Geo I DePrans is the owner of the curtain to whom much credit is due for the enterprise he has displayed Mr Gilbert, the well known architect and draughtsman designed the curtain and Mr R C White the second artist has placed the colors. In the center of the curtain is a large painting of Mount Hood executed very cleverly Around the central picture the curtain is filled with advertisements The lettering is quite neatly executed, and the curtain as a whole will present an attractive feature by gaslight

QUARTERLY LICENSE —On the 1st of July the license for the quarter ending Oct 1st, became due and payable Teamsters should bear in mind that the day of grace is almost past. Ten days are allowed for all stragglers to "fall in" and that time is almost come Friday will be the 10th and also the last day on which licenses can be paid This fact ought not to be overlooked by those who may be come liable Chief Lappeus does not propose to call on dray hack and express drivers and give them personal notice to fork over Persons found driving without a license, after Friday will be marched off and arraigned before Judge Denny Procrastinate no longer

AN ITEM CORRECTED —From a reliable gentleman who has just come from the Palouse country we learn that the stories concerning the ravages of crickets in Palouse Valley this year have been greatly exaggerated The grain crops in that fertile valley are in excellent condition The injury worked by crickets was inconsiderable and but slight damage to a few gardens no green thing planted by man suffered The insects were overcome by judicious ditching

IN GOOD TIME —Letters sent up the Columbia by express will reach their destination much earlier than if forwarded by mail The express matter arrives here daily about 4 o'clock P M while the mail reaches the city at a much later hour and quite irregularly Persons desiring to have letters reach their destination at the earliest practicable date should send them by express as they are conveyed over the regular line

GOING EAST —An exchange of a recent date, says Donald McKay, with six Warm Spring Indians the same red braves who subdued the Modocs in the lava beds were passengers on an East bound Union Pacific train Sunday en route to Washington The notables of the band are Cappolis who snaked Captain Jack out of his hiding place in the cave and Mrs tella Joe who shot the husband of Captain Jack's sister

THE INVALID—A PLAIN PICTURE.

See her pallid countenance But a short time ago the picture of ruddy health the envy of the school and the pride of the church She was always welcome by her schoolmates for her lithe form and pleasant disposition carried cheerfulness into their ranks Diligent punctual and exemplary obedient and graceful at home she won the hearts of all But alas we are sorrowed Those rosy cheeks and ruddy lips are blanched by Consumption The voice once so enchanting in laugh and song is feeble husky and supplanted by a hollow cough Let us approach her couch gently and take her hand Do not shudder because of the feeble and passionless grasp The hand once so hearty and plump is emaciated and shows bony outlines while the cords and tortuous veins are plainly mapped upon the surface The pulse that bounded with repletion carrying vigor to the whole system and imparting life beauty vivacity health and strength is delicate to the touch The feeble heart cannot propel the thin scanty blood with force Must we lose her while yet in her teens? Companions and friends gather around with words of cheer and consolation and depart with moistened eyes and silent steps Must we lose her? No! there is relief We can stay this destroyer of our happiness and not suffer the loss of so bright a gem Something more is required [illegible] than to try and live [illegible] for future [illegible] health [illegible] How it allays the irritable cough improves the appetite and digestion and [illegible] healthy [illegible] throughout the frame The blood is [illegible] nerves is free increased and the heart beats with new impulse See her face brighten by degrees the color is returning her voice is getting clearer and pleasant words are spoken The strength [illegible] But is gaining [illegible] in the warm sunshine In a short time she will be able to go without our aid a cheerful girl This delightful scene must be credited It is by [illegible] health to our [illegible] She is emerging from her sickness sweeter and nobler than before [illegible] Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery must have the credit It has no equal [illegible]

But few questions are now attracting more attention at the East than that of the present and probable future condition of the Government finances. The action of Congress affecting the currency it seems has not after all been such as will give the country permanent rest on that subject and it now bids fair to be made a leading issue in political contests. Many theories and plans to remedy existing evils are proposed and while some are meritorious on their face others are absurd and dangerous. We agree with one of our exchanges that the inflationists of whom there is a large class in the country are endeavoring to secure the inauguration of schemes which if carried out would be ruinous to the best interests of the nation while some of those who believe in contraction are almost as wild in their ideas and loose in their plans. No man so far has been able to solve the problem satisfactorily to all nor has there yet come to the front any one who professes a plan for the resumption of specie payments which is the ultimate aim of all financial writers and legislators that is free from objection. We do not claim says the Coast Review to be able to advance any new theories or plans to accomplish this end. That it should be accomplished we earnestly believe but just how it can be best done is a question which we cannot answer. We do not believe, however that it would be as difficult to accomplish as many of our most learned statesmen appear to think. It is hardly possible with the present amount of specie in the country to make a sudden transition from a paper to a specie basis but were that movement once set on foot we believe that it would be completed in an infinitely shorter period of time than most people imagine. When specie is once made the basis of circulation it will flow into the country and be found sufficient for all necessary purposes. It would not be hoarded up for speculation as at present but would find its way into all the channels of trade and being kept in rapid circulation it would discharge the debts of the community with dispatch, and without creating any very great stringency.

In our local finances we find but little subject matter for comment things remaining about the same from day to day and likely so to continue until the fall trade is fairly opened. While the banks are holding a liberal supply of money at the usual rates outside parties are offering accommodations on better terms than have heretofore been usually obtainable in this market.

A San Francisco paper on the subject of the former and present rates of interest on this coast, says one half of the banks in that city are warring with fate by endeavoring to keep up the rate of interest in the face of the strongest possible evidence that it must come down, and thinks that the time has fully come when all should agree upon the lower basis. It may as well be understood says the same paper, that the old rates for money can never again be obtained, and this being the case, and it being admitted on all hands that cheap money is the great motor of manufacturing and other industrial progress, no permanent benefit to anybody can be attained by attempting to get unjustly high prices. If money comes down in price real estate goes up lot owners borrow freely to build new houses and and manufactories (which are now our great need) increase rapidly. Is not the attainment of these advantages worth immeasurably more than the addition of a fraction to the dividend rate paid to depositors? There is really no room for dispute or difference of opinion on this subject and yet the small motives above alluded to have heretofore been allowed to outweigh all other considerations.

Freights.

The present limited supply of grain tonnage on this coast is likely to be largely increased in the course of the next four months. On the 1st of this month the grain tonnage in San Francisco aggregated only about 15,000 tons, but it was estimated at that date that over 400,000 tons ship tonnage were headed for the Pacific coast, the bulk of which will be available before the 1st of January. In the meantime freights are entirely nominal the only charter of a wheat vessel for the week ending July 1st was the ship City of York 1,225 tons from San Francisco to Liverpool at £4 1s per ton—a slight advance on the rates last previously reported. With the usual difference which has heretofore been maintained between that port and ours the price here would be £5 or more but we hope that this difference will be less this year than before. At present, we hear of no new charters for foreign ports and quotations for them would be entirely nominal. The future supply of tonnage however, promises full as well as last year.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Idaho reached her berth at the Oregon Steamship Company's wharf this morning with a small quantity of freight which being discharged she will take on a small lot of produce here and go down the river to make up her cargo in most part of salmon at the Columbia river fisheries and sail for San Francisco.

The schooner Superior now receiving freight at Central dock will sail for Puget Sound ports about Friday next.

The three-masted schooner Hera is discharging a cargo of miscellaneous merchandise mostly groceries, at the Steamship Co's wharf.

The bark Achievement completed her cargo here yesterday and has gone down the river, whence she will sail for Liverpool at an early day.

The schooner Oregonian left San Francisco for this port, July 2d.

The barkentine Webfoot is taking a deck load of lumber from the North End mills for the California market.

The steamship John L. Stephens from San Francisco, was telegraphed at 7 and arrived about 11 this evening.
